

Despite billions of dollars spent on company healthcare, errors in billing leave employees vulnerable to unexpected and unfair expenditures.

We're here to help.

Rampant inaccuracies in medical bills, a lack of pricing transparency, narrower provider networks and higher deductibles are a perfect recipe for runaway liabilities that can have devastating financial and emotional impact on your employees.

80%

of all claims contain billing discrepancies and errors.

42%

of employees say medical bills & expenses are their biggest financial concern.

59%

Dealing with medical bills can be taxing and overwhelming. Since most billing departments at provider offices function only during normal business hours, this can also have an impact on your employees' productivity.

Clarity & Fairness in Healthcare

Scott from Washington received a $28,000 bill after his newborn son spent some time in the NICU, which overcharged for care because the hospital used a flat rate.

Even worse, Scott couldn't add their baby to their insurance due to a legal loophole and post-birth complications causing a delay in paperwork. He even filed an appeal with the state insurance commissioner without any luck.

CoPatient experts put a lot of pressure on the hospital and insurance to resolve the outstanding balance. Not only did the insurance pay $21,000 of the bill, but the hospital wrote off the rest. A perfect 100% discount! The whole ordeal was even covered on Healthline.

CoPatient's staff will work very hard to ensure the best resolution of your medical bill, and are worth every penny.

Katie from New York had a trip to the ER in the middle of the night lasting less than 4 hours. She was shocked to receive a hospital bill for over $22,000! Due a lapse in her insurance coverage while she had been transitioning jobs, she was liable for the full amount.

Luckily for Katie, CoPatient was able to successfully negotiate on her behalf and cut her hospital bill in half, saving her just over $11,000!

Thank you so much for your help!

Christopher from South Dakota had a family member that stayed in the hospital. He received multiple bills for the visit from different departments within the same hospital, which totaled over $6000 after insurance!

CoPatient helped Christopher make sense of the multiple accounts and complicated bills, and even successfully removed $350 in unnecessary overcharges!

I appreciate the time you all have put into this. Even saving a few hundred bucks was worth it, so thanks!

Hetian from California received a $2,007 hospital bill for services related to clinical counseling. However, the bill wasn't coded correctly so the hospital was overcharging significantly for the services that were actually received. To correct their mistake, the lab offered a 45% discount - but that wasn't enough for us.

With our experts negotiating, we were able to successfully save Hetian a total of $1,666.28, or 83% off the original bill!

Thank you very much. I'm glad I made the right choice to trust CoPatient! - Very efficient! Worth every penny! Thank you CoPatient

Stan from Florida made a $500 co-pay at the hospital for a procedure, and the rest should've been covered by his insurance. But due to a coding issue, he ended up with a $2500 bill. After battling with the hospital for months, having the bill sent to collections, and his insurance refusing to pay, he came to CoPatient for help. We were determined that Stan shouldn't pay for any of these mistakes.

CoPatient experts finally got the hospital to correct the code and the insurance to grant an appeal. Not only was the hospital successfully paid by the insurance company, but we even got Stan a $200 refund check on his co-pay! He ended up saving over $3,000.

This result would have never been possible without the determination, hard work, and positivity of Mindy at Co-Patient.
